

Culture Building with 16 Personalities

The Myers Briggs Indicator is a personality test that categorizes people into one of 16 personality types based on their preferences with 4 different criteria.

Take the test and read your personality profile here.

Classroom Culture

- Have students take the test and read about their personality type
- Students can analyze their strengths and weaknesses
- Help students understand how to work harmoniously with classmates based on personality type
- Explore career options
- Make group pairings by personality type

School and Staff Culture

- Staff members on the same team or in the same department can discuss similarities and differences in personality types.
- Help team members understand motivations behind their own actions and the decisions of others
- Set group norms around the needs of each team member based on personality type
